H. C. HUNTINGTON.

Judge LAFAYETTE SAUNDERS of Louisiana, died recently at the Red Sulphur Springs in Virginia. He was a delegate to the recent Whig National Convention, and read the exposition of the political views and sentiments of Gen. Taylor, which have been the subject of so much subsequent comment. He was a man of abilities, and carried with him the universal respect of all parties.

EMIGRANTS TO CALIFORNIA.—The immense quantities of gold which is said to abound in California, and the ease with which it is secured, is creating a moving fever in all parts of the United States. Even in our staid and sober little city we hear people talking the matter over, and speculating as to the easiest, best and quickest route to this el Dorado, as if they were all ready for a move and only waiting to learn which route to take—whether to go by sea or on the outside of a mule. Perhaps the following, which we copy from the Louisville Courier may throw some light on the matter, and afford instructions by which our emigrants may profit. The Courier says:

We learn that there is every probability of a large emigration to California, next year. We hear of the organization of companies in various towns and neighborhoods in Kentucky, for this purpose, as well as in nearly every other State in the Union. There is but little doubt that fifty thousand persons will be on their way to the farthest West, as soon as the green grass of the prairies shall show itself above the surface of the soil, next spring. We consider we are doing a service to all persons desiring to emigrate to the new Eldorado, by calling their attention to Mr. Bryan's new publication in reference to California. No emigrant bound to this country should fail to read this work before he starts, and have it by him on the journey. It is a perfect guide book on the journey, and after arriving in the country, as could be written, besides the entertainment which its pages afford as an agreeably written narrative. With the work in his hand, the traveller to the Pacific, can never lose his way and he will always know where "grass and water" can be found. Let every emigrant purchase "I saw in California."

THE DIFFERENCE.—When Gen. Taylor was advised by the administration to retreat from Buena Vista to Monterey, he scorned the advice. He had gone to Buena Vista to fight and not to run away. He fought and conquered and thus prevented the hosts of Santa Anna from overrunning all the territory wrested from the Mexicans and even Texas itself.

When Gen. Cass at the Aux Canards bridge was instructed in writing by Gen. Hull that he was at liberty either to pursue the enemy or to retreat according to his own discretion, he chose to retreat. He ran away, when, by pushing forward a few miles, he might have taken Malden without striking a blow. The consequences of his running away was the invasion of Michigan by the British forces.

A man may as well break his sword which has no use for it on such an occasion as that.

COSTLY.—The Irving House a new hotel just opened on Broadway, New York, has been erected at a cost of nearly half a million of dollars, and furnished and fitted at a cost of about $75,000.

REPORTED.

The Madison Banner says one of the wildest freaks of nature is now to be seen at the Apollo Saloon in that city—a double calf, having eight legs, and almost as many faces as Gen. Lewis Cass.

FACTS TO BE REMEMBERED.—That Lewis Cass says that Congress has no constitutional power to prohibit the introduction of slavery into California and New Mexico.

That Lewis Cass, while Governor of Michigan, claimed and received, as extra pay, $64,000, of the People's money.

That Lewis Cass stands pledged to carry out the policy of the present administration, which is opposed to the improvement of our Rivers and Harbors.

That Lewis Cass is in favor of a tariff for revenue only, without regard to discrimination in favor of the labor of our own country.

That Lewis Cass, whilst favorable to involving our country in foreign wars, and to preparing the hearts of the American people for war, takes good care to stand out of harm's way, when war does come.

That Lewis Cass was playing the courtier at the Court of Louis Philippe, while "Old Rough and Ready" was in pursuit of the savages through the everglades of Florida.

Santa Anna's liquor canteen is in possession of Mr. McBride, of Philadelphia. It is made from the horn of a Mexican ox, is about two feet high, and is beautifully mounted with silver. When found in Santa Anna's tent at Cerro Gordo, it was filled with brandy.

ALMANACS! ALMANACS! ALMANACS!
DR. D. JAYNE would hereby inform the public that he publishes annually for gratuitous distribution by himself and all his Agents, an Almanac, called Jayne's Medical Almanac.

AND GUIDE TO HEALTH.
The calculations for this Almanac are made with great care and accuracy for five different Latitudes and Longitudes, so as to make them equally useful as a Calendar in every part of the United States and British North America. They are printed on good paper, and with handsome new type, and are neatly bound, and besides being the neatest and most accurate calendar printed in the United States, they contain a large amount of valuable information, suited to the wants of all, and of that kind, too, which cannot be found in books.

HIS CATALOGUE OF DISEASES, with remarks and directions for their removal is really invaluable, and make them welcome visitors in every house they enter. Every family should possess at least one of these Almanacs. His Almanac for 1849 is now ready for distribution, and he designs to publish at least "Two Millions," and in order that every family in the United States and British America, may be furnished with a copy, he hereby invites them to forward their orders to him as early as possible, and they shall be gratuitously given with as many copies as they may deem necessary to supply their various customers. They are also invited at the same time, to send a copy of their "BUSINESS CARD," which will be printed and placed on the cover of the Almanacs sent them, also without charge.

They are also requested to give all necessary directions as to how the Almanacs should be forwarded to them. By law they cannot be sent by mail unless the postage is first paid on them here.

ENERGY.

One of the most remarkable instances of the success which attends well applied energy and perseverance, is exhibited in the case of Dr. DAVID JAYNE, of Philadelphia, with whose advertisements the readers of the Register are familiar. The Doctor, after spending many years of his life in practice, and a careful investigation of the origin and character of diseases, applied himself to the preparation of remedies, and the excellence of his compounds is attested by the grateful thanks of thousands, who have proved the benefits of his skill and scientific knowledge. His are not mere quick nostrums, but preparations resulting from long and careful study, and as they serve, in an eminent degree, the good purposes for which they were intended, success has followed the proprietor's enterprise and labors. His establishment is now one of the largest in the United States, and besides furnishing every city, town and township in the country with his invaluable medicines, he ships, annually, immense quantities to foreign lands.

In the prosecution of his plans for bringing his specifics to the notice of the whole people, Dr. JAYNE has issued a Family Almanac, containing certificates and testimonials of the highest character. We see it stated in the Germantown Telegraph, that "last year, one million of the Almanacs were published for 1848, and all distributed. This year, the demand for 1849 is so great, that two power presses, driven by steam, are running day and night, with a double set of hands, and are unable to meet the requirements of the public for the Almanacs. Indeed, Messrs. STAVELY & McALLA, who do the press-work, have found it necessary to meet the wants of the publisher, to obtain a third power press! Two millions and a half of copies will be required for 1849 consuming from twelve to fifteen thousand reams of paper, and incurring an expense at the very small rate of two cents each copy, and we cannot see how they can be furnished at so low a price—of fifty thousand dollars. This is wonderful, exhibiting, as it does, one of the most remarkable instances of enterprise on record.

But it must be remembered that this large sum, which is a fortune of itself, is entirely given away—the whole two millions and a half of Almanacs are gratuitously given to merchants, storekeepers, families and individuals, with a view to their general gratuitous distribution throughout the United States.

The position of Dr. JAYNE is an enviable one—achieved by his own unaided energy, industry and enterprise—drawing largely from an extensive knowledge of medical jurisprudence—and he now stands at the head of the discoveries of medicines for "the million," which have not only been pronounced to be unequalled as remedies, for the diseases severally set apart by the proprietor, &c., but destined to confer upon this human family incalculable benefits in the form of restored health, and prolonged existence."—Norristown Register.
